News and Views from Mr. Schmit

Greetings,

I can honestly say that I'm happy this week is finally over. We had it all this week from Thanksgiving Feast to 7th/8th Powderpuff to a Eucharistic Procession, middle school volleyball to Covid to, oh yeah, learning. So many things have happened with so many things up and coming as the calendar will soon be turning to December. Let's jump into the Friday before Thanksgiving rundown:

- The Youth Choir will be singing at the 5PM Mass tomorrow evening. Come join us in prayer and worship as we praise Christ our King.
- The Education Foundation Tree Lighting ceremony will be on Wednesday evening, December 1, out in front of the school.
- The annual Christmas program will be held during the school day on Tuesday, December 14 in the church. The Preschool-3rd Grade will be performing at 10AM and the 4th-8th Grades will be performing at 2PM. Parents and Grandparents, please come to see/hear these live and in-person performances.
- The middle school classes are still putting the final details together on an outdoor "Journey to Bethlehem" experience that is scheduled for Thursday, December 16 starting at 5pm. More information will be coming after our Thanksgiving Break.
- The fundraising for our St. John playground addition project is well underway. We are hoping that an addition to our existing playground will be able to happen prior to August 2022 by adding additional features that all of our students can enjoy, utilizing the grass/dirt area that exists within the current fenced in playground. If you are interested in donating or want more information please contact the main office.

I know some of you are reading the weekly JG based on some conversations this week so I will continue my mini-lessons from "Unselfie: Why Empathetic Kids Succeed in Our All-About-Me World." As I continue through the second chapter, Dr. Borba emphasizes the importance of perspective taking and learning how to walk in another's shoes. She calls the ability to understand another's thoughts, feelings, wants, and needs, "the gateway to empathy." This essential habit "is an important part of instilling a deep, caring connection with others...that children need for every part of life-from handling playground disputes today to mastering boardroom debates tomorrow." (Borba 49-50) This quote jumps off the page for me because it is necessary for us as parents to teach our children conflict resolution, equipping them with tools to handle situations as they arise. There is a tendency as parents to handle all of those conflicts for our children. However, as we learned a couple lessons ago, handling everything for our children, essentially bulldozing the way for them, leads to raising entitled kids. Entitled kids lack empathy.

SJS parent community, despite the negativity and the noise that surrounds us from whatever is going on in our lives I'm thankful we continue to have beautiful examples each week of empathy and compassion in our school. One of our homerooms made a "thank you" sign for all of our parent lunch volunteers for students to sign. In another classroom, one student was upset about something so another student went over and gave the emotional student a hug. The other day during morning drop off a young student was walking into school and his water bottle fell to the ground but he kept walking. An unprompted middle school student sprinted to pick up the bottle and give it to the owner. One early elementary class has developed a culture of care and compassion and each morning, when they figure out who is missing, the students say a prayer for their absent friends. Finally, I just witnessed a middle school homeroom where students were in small groups interacting in a positive and encouraging way while engaged in a unit review activity. I have to say that this last example brought a smile to my face. All of these examples give me hope for the future. Let's continue working together to bring up disciples of Jesus who are caring and compassionate for others.

Have a blessed weekend!

Merry Mail

December 2nd-December 8th

Starting December 2nd, St. John School will have our very own post office staffed by the 3rd grade classes. This is an opportunity for students, parents, and staff to send KIND letters, cards, and messages to each other. All money collected will be used to support the St. John Parish Giving Tree. Last year, our school was able to donate over 30 gifts to the Giving Tree from your generous donations.

Stamps will be sold for any donation amount. Letters will be delivered to classrooms each day. Letters mailed after 12 PM may be delivered the following day.

We encourage families to send in letters to be delivered to their children. Everyone loves to receive a personal handwritten note! Please feel free to send your letter and your donation for stamps to the office and we will be sure to get it to the post office in time! We will also have a drop off box in the morning loop line.

Please address letters like this:

Student Name
Teacher
Grade level

Attendance

Due to some questions we have received recently, here are a few attendance clarifications.

- Whenever a student is marked absent, our student database (Powerschool) sends an automatic notification to parents via email. You will receive this notification even if you have informed the office in advance that your child will be absent for any reason. It is the way the system is programmed.
- If a student is quarantined because of a Covid exposure, the student will be marked absent even if the student is attending virtually through Zoom. This helps us keep track of who is in the building in an emergency situation. We keep separate records regarding absences due to quarantine that we will put in a student's file if necessary. The exception to this is if an entire homeroom/grade level is moved to virtual learning. In this situation, we would know that an entire grade/homeroom is out of the building in an emergency. If an entire grade/homeroom is moved to a virtual learning situation, students would only be marked absent if they do not attend the Zoom meeting.
- Please continue to call or email the office if your child will be absent. If you are emailing the teacher, please include Mrs. Haiss on the email (ahaiss@sjseducation.com). We still spend a significant amount of time each day trying to contact families of absent students.

Menu Change

Due to supply chain issues, the lunch menu has changed for Monday. Unfortunately, we cannot get mini pancakes or mini waffles because they are out of stock. The choices for Monday's lunch are:

Maple Belgian Waffle w/Sausage, Cheese Pizza, or WOW Butter Sandwich

Thank you for understanding!

Wrapping Paper Donations

The PSA is collecting wrapping paper for this year's Santa Shop. Feel free to drop off donations in the school office or send in with your student. All size rolls of paper are need. Donations will be collected until December 3rd. Thank you from the North Pole!

Spiritwear
